Status update: Dan Rosenthal discussed what has been occurring with the memorial design. He has instructed SWA to hold off on further design revisions until we address the issue of funding. He told the commission that SWA put him in touch with a fundraising company. However, he did not feel that this company was a good fit as the company would depend on the commission to generate a list of potential donors. SWA also put him in touch with a second fundraising company that he felt was more promising. The members of the commission wanted Dan to get more information and report back at the next meeting.

Adjournment: The meeting of the Sandy Hook Permanent Memorial Commission ended at 8:00PM

Respectfully Submitted, Daniel Krauss, Chairman
